News Letter #5

April 2009

I hope this finds you all well as things are warming up for the summer! As usual the weather here in south Texas is beautiful and I have the shop in full swing!

I recently worked a design collaboration with Liong Mahan d have so far produced and delivered 7 of these knives. Liong has been great to work with and his designs push me out of my comfort zone and force me to be a better maker. Not always easy, but worth it in the end I think.

I participated in a Build off on the Custom Knives and Guns Forum a few weeks ago and made this sub-hilt fighter for a good friend back in Hawaii.

As a result of the build off I now have my first work in progress series on my site!

I can't believe it's almost Blade show time! I hope that many of you will stop by the show in Atlanta. Maybe you would even want a George Knives T shirt the wear at the show to fly the colors for everyone to see! ☺ Things here have been going very well, my knives have been very well received by most everyone that has taken the time to comment and ask about my work. Things are to the point where I will stop taking orders at the end of this month. As of 1 May 2009 I will not be taking orders until I get the back log down to a more manageable size. Right now I think it's about 2 years long. I can't even give a reasonable actuate time frame right now. The reason for that is I will be stepping back into part time knife making this fall and going back to school full time. I hate to even think about turning people away, but I just don't see any way around it for now. I hope you can all understand and I thank you for your continued support!

I hope to see you at the Show, let me know if I can do anything for you!

Respectfully Submitted,

Les George
